FRONT Studio

Anna Lindgren & Sofia Lagerkvist

FRONT Studio, is a Swedish design duo known for their innovative and playful approach to furniture and product design, often merging art, technology, nature and functionality. As Anna explains, “Our work is about creating objects that invite interaction. We want to encourage people to engage with the design in a way that they haven’t before—by being playful, surprising, or even challenging,” highlighting their focus on engaging and thought-provoking designs.

TOOGOOD Studio
Faye Toogood

Faye Toogood is a British designer redefining furniture with sculptural, raw forms that blur the line between art and function. Critiquing industrial design, she states, “The way we’re designing and manufacturing is broken,” a philosophy she explored in her ‘Manufacture’ exhibition at Stockholm Furniture Fair 2025. Through hands-on, imperfect processes, she challenges mass production, advocating for a return to craftsmanship and human touch.

Studio Urquiola
Patricia Urquiola

Patricia Urquiola is a visionary Spanish designer known for her playful approach to form, colour, and materiality, seamlessly blending industrial innovation with artisanal craftsmanship. As she puts it, “For me, design is about being open to playful thinking, to being curious and flexible”—a philosophy that defines her bold, boundary-pushing creations.
